

Fireside Chat Booked Tuesday By Eisenhower

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's decision to report to the nation by radio next Tuesday emphasized today deep Republican concern about public reaction to continued deficit spending and possible tax cut delays.

In what the late Franklin D. Roosevelt called a fireside chat, Eisenhower will take to the air waves to tell why his GOP administration can't balance the federal budget now.

Three Big Topics

There were some reports—not verified at the White House — he might call for an extension of present high taxes despite Congress' obvious distaste for any such recommendation.

What he has to say about the progress of Korean truce negotiations, if anything, may depend on developments.

The President told a White House news conference yesterday he will speak on the interrelated problems of national security, the budget and expenditures. The White House announced later the speech will be carried by all major networks from 9:30 to 10 p. m. EST.

It will be the President's first report to the nation from the White House, a distinguished from broadcast speeches to live audiences. He said it will be followed about a week later by an informal televised discussion of the purposes which have guided his administration and what he thinks it has accomplished.

Security Not Menaced

One of Eisenhower's objectives in the two talks apparently will be to assure the country that its basic military security will not be damaged by promised spending slashes.

At the same time, he is expected to try to explain why it might be dangerous to cut deeply enough into the arms funds now to eliminate red ink spending and achieve the balanced budget goal he has said is a major objective of his administration.

Eisenhower will have the opportunity, if he chooses to take it, of blaming the Democratic Truman administration for piling up huge fund carryovers which he has complained make it difficult to reduce expenditures in the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Germany Okays European Army

BONN, Germany (AP) — West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer was reluctant approval today to his Parliament's upper house—the Bundesrat—for the European Army Treaty. Germany's lawmakers thus became the first legislative body to ratify the treaty to set up a six-nation, two-million-man Western defense force.

The Bundesrat approved the army treaty and its related Allied-Bonn peace contract by a compromise formula under which the upper chamber approved two lesser sections of the treaties and voiced no objections to the two major sections.

The vote, which followed only brief debate in a special session, was 23 to 15.

House Passes Bill Asking Gas Pipeline For Upper Peninsula

LANSING (AP) — A resolution urging that a proposed Canadian natural gas pipeline be routed through Michigan was passed in the House and sent to the Senate yesterday.

Introduced by all Upper Peninsula representatives, the resolution urges that the line, now routed north of Lake Superior, be diverted to the Michigan route to permit tapping by Upper Peninsula communities.

McCarthy-Attlee Shouting Match Makes Headlines

LONDON (AP) — The transatlantic shouting match between Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and former British Prime Minister Clement Attlee sparked a rash of fresh headlines and anti-American comment today in the British press.

Two pro-Labor newspapers printed front-page editorials upholding Attlee's right to say there are "elements" in America which oppose a Korean settlement. Other newspapers with varying political viewpoints plainly indicated their sympathies lay with the Labor party's leader.

Moscow Plays It Up

President Eisenhower's conciliatory remarks at his weekly press conference were all but lost in the shuffle. The President said he did not think the rift between Britain and the U. S. over dealings with Russia and Korean policy is as wide as it might appear.

Although this drew little attention in London, Moscow's two principal newspapers—Pravda and Izvestia—carried identical 186-word summaries of the Eisenhower statements in today's editions. Neither paper offered any comment, however.

The publication of the summaries emphasized again the extremely close attention Moscow is giving developments in Britain and the United States since the start of the current Soviet peace drive.

Russian papers devoted nearly a page yesterday to the foreign affairs debate in the House of Commons earlier this week—the biggest lay a British parliamentary discussion has won in the Soviet press in years.

Dock Union May Clean Out Vice

BALTIMORE (AP) — Ordered to sweep out gangster elements within its ranks or face possible expulsion from the American Federation of Labor, leaders of the International Longshoremen's Association today prepared to tell the parent union more about their clean-up program.

Last night the 20-member Executive Council of the ILA announced steps to eliminate the "shape-up" hiring system, which the AFL pictured last February as an open invitation to racketeers.

The AFL also ordered the longshoremen's union to purge itself of known criminals and set May 20 as the deadline for it to get the move under way.

Cautious, tight-lipped members of the council refused to say whether this was a separate order of business during the two-day secret meeting resumed in a Baltimore hotel this morning.

Ryan, president of the ILA for 27 years, is under indictment in New York on a charge of larceny of $11,390 in union funds.

Korean Peace Hopes Analyzed In Washington

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. officials have decided to probe the present Communist position in Korea as fully as possible to try to determine whether there is any basis to hope for an eventual truce.

The alternative, in the light of the Red rejection of an Allied plan for breaking the deadlock over final disposition of prisoners of war, was to accept collapse of the talks at once. Instead, the negotiators met today for an hour and 20 minutes without evident progress.

Reds Willing to Pay?

Officials recognize that the decision to explore the Red attitude in a few more sessions may do no more than put off a breakdown.

They cling to some hope, however, that evidence may yet be found that the Reds really want a truce and are willing to pay a price for it.

Considerable importance is attached to whatever they find out ultimately about the Communist attitude because what happens on Korean armistice is a clear key to the whole Communist approach to a settlement of East-West differences.

On this broader prospect, there is relatively little optimism among authorities here, although as President Eisenhower stated yesterday the declared purpose and hope of the government is for an easing of tensions between the Russian bloc and the rest of the world.

Trickery Evident

The eagerness with which Moscow has played up the outburst of differences between U. S. and British officials this week is regarded by some diplomats here as evidence they were right all along in seeing a sinister design in the

Both Sides Refuse To Budge In Korean Armistice Deadlock

By GEORGE A. MCARTHUR

PANMUNJOM (AP) — Korean truce negotiations got nowhere today as both sides refused to budge from their separate proposals for exchanging war prisoners.

Apparently, only hope kept the talks alive. The Allies have threatened to break off negotiations again if the Reds won't bargain on the last major barrier to a truce.

U. S. officials want to probe every corner of the Communist position for any possible basis for agreement.

Today's hour and 20-minute session brought only restatements that neither side accepts the other's views on what to do with 48,500 Red prisoners who refuse to go back to communism.

Another meeting is scheduled for 11 a. m. tomorrow (9 p. m. Friday, EST).

Senators Don't Want Red China As UN Member

WASHINGTON (AP) — Several senators displayed little liking today for President Eisenhower's stated position on possible admission of Red China into the United Nations in the event a truce is reached in Korea.

The President told his news conference yesterday he would not now say that admission of the Peiping Communist regime to the U. N. should follow an armistice. He did not add that he would oppose China's admission under any circumstances.

Some lawmakers said they saw a possibility the President may have left the gate ajar for future compromises.

Among these, Sen. Bridges (R-NH) said he is categorically opposed either to U. S. recognition of Communist China or to its U. N. admission under any circumstances.

"I think this country should absolutely oppose at every point their admission to the U. N.," Bridges declared.

Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ), a foreign relations committee member, said if Red China gets into the U. N. "all Asia is lost and that includes Korea, Burma, Indochina and Indonesia and I don't like to think what would happen to Japan."

Suggestions by British leaders Clement Attlee and Sir Winston Churchill that Red China be given a U. N. seat if there is a Korean armistice have touched off a storm in the Senate which could result in some drastic cuts in foreign aid allotments to Britain.

India Endorses Red Truce Plan

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru today endorsed the most recent Communist proposal of repatriation of Korean prisoners of war in preference to this week's counter-plan from the United Nations Command.

The U. N. negotiators' proposals, he told Parliament in a special foreign policy statement, "diverge considerably from the (Indian-authored) General Assembly resolution to which the United Nations stands committed."

But the Red proposals, he continued, are a "very close approximation" of the U. N. resolution and "seemed to afford a promising, solid basis for a solution of the immediate problem."

"It should be possible to amplify them or vary them by agreement where necessary," Nehru continued, adding:

"We would welcome any solution accepted by the parties concerned, but feel such a solution is much more likely to be found on the basis of the United Nations resolution."

Steinbrenner Not Seaworthy Ship, Seamen Testify

CLEVELAND (AP) — A Coast

Guard board of inquiry moved here today from Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., to question two additional crew members of the ill-fated freighter Henry Steinbrenner which sank in Lake Superior Monday with the loss of 17 lives.

Those to face questioning are Bernard Oberoski, East Plymouth, Pa., second cook, and Kenneth L. Kumm, Tonawanda, N. Y., a deck-hand. They were put ashore by rescue craft in Duluth, Minn., and brought here.

Fourteen of the ship's crew of 31 survived the storm-driven sinking of the 52-year-old ship, which sank in 1909 after a collision and was raised.

Watchman Norman M. Bragg, Huntington, W. Va., was particularly outspoken en route to Cleveland at Detroit last night.

"Nothing," he said, "worked as it should aboard the ship. We were taking water something awful for nearly 12 hours before she went down."

"For my money, she just wasn't seaworthy."

Bragg said that the threads were stripped on the latches of the No. 11 hatch which tore open in the turbulent seas off Isle Royale about 7 p. m., Sunday. The Steinbrenner battled high winds and waves before foundering early Monday morning.

An Army spokesman said many Turks were unhappy because the Communists didn't get close enough for them to use their favorite weapon—the bayonet.

The Chinese struck Outposts Vegas, Berlin and East Berlin on the Western end of the battle line, only a few miles from the Panmunjom truce talks village. Until two weeks ago the sector was held by the U. S. 1st Marine Division. But the Reds found Turkish troops as the Marines. The Turks are attached to the U. S. 25th Division which took over the sector when the Leathernecks were pulled out for a rest.

Opposition To New Levy On Business Melts In Lansing

LANSING (AP) — Much of the bitter opposition to the Michigan Senate's proposed business receipts tax began to melt today as the Senate taxation committee prepared major concessions to outraged merchants.

Debate on the proposal was delayed until Monday with signs increasing that the bill may pass the Senate early next week. The House still was cool, but was reported to be warming slightly to the measure.

Doyle Explains Changes

At a public hearing last night, spokesmen for retail and wholesale merchants announced they had worked out compromise amendments which removed much of their fierce opposition to the levy.

Legislator Attacks Lansing Lobbyists

LANSING (AP) — Senator Donald W. Gilbert (R-Saginaw), urging a permanent grand jury to watch the Michigan Legislature, charged last night that lobbyists again are winning and dining lawmakers to win support for their causes.

Gilbert said "little by little we are getting away from the road established by the Carr-Sigler grand jury" a reference to the one-time Ingham County grand jury which indicted lobbyists and legislators for graft conspiracies.

Gilbert, a one-time grand jury prosecutor himself, took the Senate floor in anger at published reports the House had killed his bill to change the State Fair Board out of "animosity" to him personally.

He said that animosity grew out of a published interview last week in which he suggested one member of the State Supreme Court sit as a permanent grand juror to act as a check on lobbyists.

"There are rumors, and justifiable rumors," Gilbert said, "that the laws we passed against lobbying are being violated."

"There are rumors that some legislators never get a hotel bill, that some never pay a bar bill, that suites of offices are maintained by lobbyists to which legislators have keys and can go in any time to play cards and drink on the house. This is not in the public interest."

He charged the Michigan Bell Telephone Company with the "most pernicious lobby" last year against his bill to outlaw horse race betting tickets. His bill passed.

He said that animosity grew out of a published interview last week in which he suggested one member of the State Supreme Court sit as a permanent grand juror to act as a check on lobbyists.

U. S. Jets Wreck 100 Buildings, Bag Three Migs

SEOUL (AP) — U. S. Sabre jets

bagged three Communist MIGs and damaged five more today while Turkish infantrymen and a thunderous tank and artillery barrage cut down 400 of 2,000 attacking Chinese in western Korea.

More than 200 Sabres, Thunderjets and Meteor jets flattened almost 100 buildings in a big military training center at Chinnampo, the Air Force said. The fighter-bombers unloaded more than a half-million pounds of bombs in a day-long series of strikes against the center.

Ace Downs No. 12

Capt. Joseph McConnell Jr., of Apple Valley, Calif., the second ranking jet ace in Korea, downed one MIG today to boost his total kill to 12, only one below the record of Capt. Manuel Fernandez of Miami, Fla.

The Chinese threw two batteries against three Allied outposts in the biggest assault since the Korean truce talks resumed April 26. The commander of Turkish troops defending the outposts estimated that at least 400 Reds were killed or wounded.

An Army spokesman said many Turks were unhappy because the Communists didn't get close enough for them to use their favorite weapon—the bayonet.

Petite Norwegian Princess Marries Commoner Today

OSLO, Norway (AP) — A shy, young princess leaves the sheltered life of the Norwegian Royal Court today to become the wife of a commoner businessman.

The bride is Princess Ragnhild, 22, petite, brunette older daughter of Crown Prince Olav and Crown Princess Martha. Late this afternoon she marries handsome Erling Svend Lorentzen, 30, who takes a big hand in running his father's thriving shipping business in Oslo.

Their simple wedding—the climax of a fairy tale romance come true—was planned for a brick village church at Asker, near Oslo, in sight of Crown Prince Olav's hilltop Skaugum residence.

Heading the guest list was 80-year-old King Haakon VII, who was rumored to regard with mixed emotions the eight-year-old romance of his favorite granddaughter with a commoner.

Other royal guests on hand for the ceremony in the tiny Lutheran church were Denmark's King Frederik IX and Queen Ingrid; Britain's Princess Margaret, representing Queen Elizabeth II, and Prince Bertil, representing Sweden's King Gustaf Adolf.

Planning Group Requests City Enforce Zoning

Enforcement of the city zoning law to halt further spread of non-conforming uses in Escanaba while a study of the situation continues will be recommended to the City Council by the Planning Commission.

Action of the Planning Commission in meeting last night is aimed at assisting the city with a starting point for enforcement of the zoning law, which permits certain types of uses according to zone.

In adopting its recommendation to the City Council the Planning Commission had before it a report and spot map prepared following a house-to-house survey of non-conforming uses in Escanaba.

Widespread Violation

Based on survey figures, the spot maps showed 125 non-conforming uses in industrial, commercial and residential areas; and in addition 38 multi-family, and 187 two-family non-conforming uses in residential areas, for a total of 250 in the city.

Violation is widespread and has continued for many years. The survey provides a starting point for enforcement to halt further spread of non-conformity to zoning law, it was explained. But the Commission would like enforcement now while it continues its study toward possible rezoning.

If the City Council adopts the Planning Commission's recommendation the effect will be to allow present non-conforming uses to continue only if the owner of the property applies to the city for a permit. But no additional non-conforming uses will be allowed.

Provided By Ordinance

The Planning Commission recommended that a file be compiled of all existing non-conforming uses as determined by the recent survey and that all property owners permitting such uses be notified that as of a certain early date (to be fixed by the Council) they must apply for a permit to continue such use.

City ordinance provides for such permits, but in the past they have never been required because the ordinance has not been enforced.

Looking ahead toward the solution of the present difficulty of non-conforming uses, the Planning Commission will make a study of the problem and a recommendation for possible changes in the zoning law. Until that study has been completed no further non-conforming uses should be permitted to start, the Planning Commission believes.

Approve Precised Plat

In other business before the Planning Commission last night a precised plat, which includes the area to be used for a new elementary school, was approved for recommendation to the City Council.

The plan for the precised plat was recommended by the sub-division committee and includes the area bounded by Fifth and Eighth Avenues South, 19th and 23rd Street South. A lay-out of streets and alleys for the area will permit orderly development in the future.

Amendment to the plan, as requested by representatives of the Escanaba Board of Education, included the extension of 20th Street through to Eighth Avenue and the closing of Seventh Avenue between 20th and 21st Street; and that 20-foot alleys be recommended instead of 10-foot easements.

The Board of Education has acquired additional property in the area to provide a more suitable

Draft Problems Aired At Area Meeting Here

Draft board officials from six Upper Peninsula counties last night heard Col. Arthur A. Holmes, state director of selective service, and two other high selective service administrators speak on selective service problems. The meeting was held in the Marine Room of the House of Ludington.

Represented were Delta, Schoolcraft, Menominee, Dickinson, Iron and Gogebic Counties. The two other officers were Lt. Col. W. J. Myers, deputy state director and Lt. Col. Charles C. Pearson, state executive director.

Col. Holmes said a special responsibility rested on draft boards, because the law says a man cannot go to court over his draft classification. He can only go to court if denied his procedural rights.

Explains Appeal Procedures

The colonel advised boards to bend over backwards to see that site for the new grade school.

Benefit Entire Area

T. D. Vinette, member of the Planning Commission, voted against adopting the precised plat for recommendation to the Council, stating that he believed cost studies should first be made to determine the city's possible expenditure for street right-of-way.

"When the streets are put through it will double the value of the land of the individual property owner in the entire area," replied J. H. Ivens, Planning Commission chairman. "These individuals should be anxious to provide the right-of-way without cost to the city."

In other business the Commission recommended to the Council that it reject the request of Frank Lindenthal to purchase the property he now leases from the city at Sand Point, on which radio station WDBC is located. Lindenthal said he also wanted to purchase an additional piece of land in front of the building for expansion.

Extend Commercial

At the present time Lindenthal has a 20 year lease, expiring Feb. 1, 1972. The station is in a Class A residential area and is a non-conforming use under the ordinance.

The Planning Commission adopted a recommendation to the Council to zone one square block in the Goulais Addition for local business, as requested by Art Goulais. Certain restrictions on use and type of architecture were approved as presented by Goulais.

A recommendation was also adopted to extend the present commercial zone located at the intersection of Washington and 21st Street south across 13th Avenue N. to include the lot located on the southeast corner of the intersection of 13th Avenue N. and 21st Street. The area is now in a Class B residential zone.

Planning Commission members at last night's meeting were Chairman Ivens, Vinette, William E. Anderson, Eldridge Baker, J. J. Bartella, F. R. Hoyler Jr. and Jesse Pomazal.

Others present were Planning Director Robert Clayton, Councilman Jacob Bink and City Manager A. V. Aronson.

mental hospitals, in thankless jobs which civilians cannot be found to fill. They are doing an outstanding job, the state director declared.

In a question period after the meeting, Col. Holmes gave advice on many other draft board problems. A draft board member asked him about teacher deferments. If a teacher is involved in an academic year now, the colonel advised, and a serious teacher shortage exists in the community and taking the man would do harm, defer the teacher until the end of that school year. "Use your own best judgement," he said.

"What is a good general rule to follow about farm deferments?" asked a member.

Col. Holmes replied that a farm deferment should never be granted just for the financial benefit of the farming family involved. He said draft boards should grant a farm deferment only if non-deferment would contribute to a serious shortage of food harmful to the nation's interests.

He said type of crop grown should be considered, and cited a man who requested deferment because he was employed on a celery farm. Col. Holmes said he did not think drafting a man from a celery farm would cause a crisis in the nation's diet.

Students Deferments

At any rate, the state director said, he believed a farm deferment should never be extended beyond the agricultural season for which originally granted.

Col. Holmes was asked about deferments when men are employed in Great Lakes shipping. He declared the manpower crisis of 1950 on the lakes is now somewhat alleviated, and said ship-owners themselves admit this. Therefore, he said, he felt boys with no boat background who try to go on boats, should be inducted.

In regard to student deferments, he advised draft boards to look on them with understanding. He said this country is based on a certain educational level that ought to be maintained for the country's future benefit. He said this was true not only in such fields as chemistry and engineering, but in the fine arts as well. We must look to the national interest, he declared.

Lt. Col. Myers spoke briefly on the composition of draft boards. He said there was an attempt to represent all community groups on boards, and said the state organization hopes to have the World War II veteran group represented.

An operating draft board should have five members, he said, stating that 70 percent of the state's draft boards are operating at the five-member level today. The state organization wants 100 percent of boards to operate at that level, he said in urging members of any boards with fewer members than five to nominate new members. He said all appointments to draft boards are made by the President of the United States.

Morning Flight Begins June 1

North Central Airlines (formerly Wisconsin Central) today announced the flight arrival and departure time changes going into effect here June 1.

A morning flight to Detroit and Chicago is scheduled from Escanaba with a second flight scheduled for late afternoon.

The morning flight will arrive from Iron Mountain at 8:42 and leave Escanaba at 8:45 a. m. It will arrive in Detroit at 12:23 and in Chicago at 1:56. The evening flight will leave Escanaba at 5:05, arriving in Detroit at 8:43 and in Chicago at 8:11.

Northbound flights will arrive in Escanaba from Detroit and Chicago at 11:34 a. m. and 6:44 p. m. These flights will leave Escanaba at 8:20 a. m. and 3:30 p. m. and will leave Detroit at 7:50 a. m. and 3:00 p. m.

These changes are in accordance with North Central's general system-wide schedule changes which President Howard A. Morey terms "the greatest schedule advance in the history of the airlines."

Starting June 1, North Central's planes will be scheduled to fly 14,321 miles a day, 2,340 more than now, or an increase of 20 per cent.

"This increase," says Morey, "is the result of new service to International Falls, Minn., and additional flights on four of our established routes, made possible by additional aircraft." (North Central will soon "commission" her fifteenth DC-3).

"This schedule is geared to accommodate the heavy tourist traffic which is anticipated in North Central vacationlands," he says, "and vastly improves interline connections at Milwaukee, Chicago and the Twin Cities (Minneapolis and St. Paul)."

Established routes which will receive additional service are Duluth-Twin Cities, Duluth to Chicago via Rhinelander, Twin Cities-Chicago via Green Bay and Milwaukee, and Chicago-Milwaukee.

One nice thing about kids is they don't go around bragging about the bright things their mommies and daddies said.

Jury Acquits Jack Parins

An all-woman jury yesterday afternoon in Circuit Court found that Jack Parins of Wells was not guilty of driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquors as alleged by the state.

The state had claimed that Parins was under the influence when he allegedly was involved in an auto accident at 11th St. and 1st Ave. N. at 3:15 the afternoon of March 18.

County Prosecutor Nicholas Chapekis represented the state, and Harlan J. Yelland the defendant.

In court yesterday afternoon, Judge Glenn W. Jackson granted one divorce.

This morning, Judge Jackson heard the non-jury civil case of John Ohlen, d/b/a Upper Peninsula Heat and Power Co. vs. Jeanette Mahor. Both sides completed testimony this morning and the judge took the case under advisement.

County Clerk William E. Butler said jury civil cases will begin Monday morning. Jury members should report at 9 a. m. Monday, Butler said.

Hermansville Lions Back Bike Safety

HERMANVILLE — The members of the Hermansville Lions Club have received the material for the "Scotchlite" a-bike program and will start this safety program on the first warm Saturday following the track meets, which many of the students will be attending. All children who own bikes may avail themselves of this service free of charge and are asked to bring their bikes to the school.

The children and parents are advised that the application of "Scotchlite" does not remove the necessity of having a light on the bike for night riding. The State Law requires lights on bicycles and the "Scotchlite" is merely a further safety measure which will reduce accidents caused by bicycles on the highway.

Doris Swanson Is State Winner In National Contest

Mrs. Doris Swanson, 30, of 212 S. 19th St. Escanaba, has been selected as the outstanding entry in Michigan in a nation-wide contest conducted by Neechi Sewing Circles throughout the country to select the home economist who made the best suggestions "for the advancement of teaching home sewing."

As a state winner, the Michigan woman won a $50 defense bond and is eligible for the grand prize of a $500 defense bond or the runnerup prize of $200 and $100 defense bonds. The grand prize winner also will receive the Neechi Sewing Circle trophy.

Three National Winners

Robert Phillips, contest director, said that the names of the three national winners, who will be selected from the state finalists, will be announced June 8. He added that the grand prize winner will receive her award at the American Home Economics Association's annual convention in Kansas City, June 24.

Mrs. Swanson, who has been teaching at the Escanaba Junior High School for the last nine years is a regional chairman of the Home Economics Division of the Michigan Education Association. She was graduated from Spout Institute, Menominee, Wis. and did graduate work at Northern Michigan College of Education at Marquette.

Her husband, Elmer, is owner-manager of the Swanson Oil Company in Escanaba. When she is not teaching, Mrs. Swanson spends a good deal of her leisure time sewing things for herself, her husband, her home and for friends and relatives.

Over 25,000 Entries

Phillips said that more than 25,000 home economists and sewing teachers from all quarters of the United States were invited to participate in the contest. They were asked to make their suggestions in 500 words or less.

All entries were judges on ideas rather than "literary style." The judging committee included: Dr. Henrietta Fleck chairman, Home Economics Department, New York University; Mrs. Sigana Earl, editor-in-chief, Forecast Magazine; Miss Frances Henry, textiles, fashion and good grooming editor of "What's New in Home Economics"; Mrs. Drucella Lowrie, author of "Modern Home Sewing," and Mrs. Sylvia Mager, author of "The American Household Encyclopedia," and "A Complete Guide to Home Sewing."

Menominee Police Chief Will Retire

MENOMINEE—Joseph C. Kellner who parlayed a police career start from pounding the beat to the badge and authority of the police chief, will end more than a quarter of a century in the Menominee Police Department today.

Technically, Kellner will be police chief until May 31 when he will retire on a pension of $126.46 a month. However, although Kellner has never been much of a man for vacations—except for a few days during the deer hunting season each fall—he will spend his last two weeks in office at leisure and on the City's payroll.

Kellner became subject to mandatory retirement last Saturday when he reached his 65th birthday. Regulations of the police pension system require a police officer to retire in the month in which he reaches his 65th birthday. They also ban any payments for vacations, bonuses, etc., after the date the pension goes into effect. City officials urged him to take the last vacation to which he is entitled while he is eligible for paid time.

Gaines Describes Growth Of MUCC At Meeting Here

Harry Gaines of Grand Rapids, executive secretary of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs, presented a general review of the statewide sportsmen's organization for the Delta County Sportsmen's Club at the local group's meeting last night in Carpenters' Hall. Gaines has been making a tour of some of the affiliated clubs in the Upper Peninsula.

He told of the growth from 1937 with 35 clubs banded together to the present with 271 clubs in all sections of the state. Today there are between 57 and 60,000 sportsmen and conservationists represented.

Sketching briefly some of the legislative fights in which the MUCC was the leader, Gaines also touched on the continuing efforts that are being made to assure public access to fishing waters and the "watchdog" attitude maintained toward the game protection fund in the state.

He explained the new MUCC magazine and a new plan to make U. P. representation effective despite transportation difficulties.

The meeting opened with a pancake feed, the local club's initial experiment with such a feature and closed with the showing of several reels of interesting movies from Wm. DeCock's extensive film library.

Everyone Has Stake In Contract Negotiations For Steel Industry

THE upcoming negotiations for a new labor contract in the steel industry will affect vitally not only the million-plus members of the steel workers union, but in a very material way everyone in this country has a stake in the negotiations.

Steel is a basic commodity. If the new labor contract provides for wage increases that cause price increases, we have not accomplished anything in efforts to stop inflation. Even worse, it could cause a serious business recession.

Steel is used in one way or another in virtually every industrial operation in America. Already consumer resistance to high prices has been felt in many retail lines. If steel prices are increased, virtually all commodities, products and services likewise will be increased. That is bad at a time when consumer resistance is evidenced.

Our own national defense expenditures, already taking a sharp bite from taxpayers, will necessarily increase. Or at least we will get less defense for the money that we are spending.

If wage increases can be granted without increasing the price of steel, the effect on the national economy would not be devastating. But we can hardly anticipate the steel industries will agree to absorb the increased cost of operation unless greater productivity can be assured to offset the cost of wage boosts.

Power With Words

By Dr. C. E. Funk

capacity—"Is the word capacity used correctly in the following sentence: 'I do not believe it is within my capacity to have to go and get coffee?'" B. W., Milwaukee, Wis.

No. It seems to me that the intent of the speaker of the phrase, "within my capacity" was "among my duties," rather than "within my capacity." The word capacity has no meaning that would make it appropriate, so some other term should be substituted. I suggest, "among my duties," or "within my province," or "among my obligations," or the like.

compared to, or with—A. R. V., Kansas City, Mo.—Depending upon the nature of the comparison, it is equally correct to use compared to and compared with. But here are the distinctions: If the things compared are put into the same class, then one is compared to the other. Thus, "I compared him to the president," indicates that I was representing him as similar to the president. Also one uses to when two unlike objects are compared; as, "It offends a woman to compare her house to an ant-hill." Or, to quote the poet, "Wedlock, indeed, hath oft compared been To public feasts, where meet a public rout—Where they that are without would fain go in, And they that are within would fain go out."

To compare a person or thing with another means to examine them for points of likeness or unlikeness. Thus, "Smith's candy is poor, compared with that sold by Jones"; "The general compared our jets with the Russian MIGs."

length, strength—T. B., Jr., Savannah—The pronunciation "length" and "strength" are results either of ignorance or of sheer carelessness. The same speakers who use them have no difficulty with the words "long" and "strong," so they should practice saying "leng" and "stren" and, when assured of those, then go a step further by adding "th"—length, strength.

The Doctor Says ... Baby-Talking Adult Is Near Having a Mental Disability

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

I am not at all sure that today's first question should not have been submitted to another kind of a columnist, though it does reflect what almost amounts to a mental disability.

Q—My daughter, in her mid-twenties, sleeps with a doll and talks affected baby-talk. Her fiancé has termed this sickening and embarrassing to him before his friends, so the engagement is broken. My family thinks I should have broken this habit long ago. What do you think about this?

Worried Mother.

A—A mature young woman in her mid-twenties should be able to break any habit of this sort if she finds it annoys her young man. Neither sleeping with a doll nor excessive baby-talk are of themselves harmful, but I should imagine they might be extremely annoying.

If she is unable to break these habits herself, she should seek the aid of a psychiatrist, since the habits have already harmed her and certainly cannot be expected to do her any good in the future.

Q—Would you please say something on porphyria?

Mrs. L. L.

A—This is a comparatively rare condition which is probably, in most instances, inherited. One of the symptoms consists of excessive sensitivity to sunlight, but there may be nervous signs and other abnormalities.

It is characterized also by the excretion in the urine of a chemical substance which can be identified and which corroborates the diagnosis. The outlook for life is generally good in the inborn type, but not so good in the other main variety, and treatment is not as satisfactory as we should like.

Q—My husband, who was only 30 years old, died several months ago from glioma of the brain. Can you tell me about this?

Mrs. K.

A—This is a cancer or malignant tumor of the brain. Like other cancers, the cause is uncertain, and I can only express my sympathy for your tragic loss.

Q—What is the meaning of "mixed" hemorrhoids? I was operated on for that trouble.

H. H.

A—This presumably refers to hemorrhoids, or piles, which are both external and internal.

Q—I understand that caffeine is the active ingredient of coffee. Is there something similar that exists in tea?

Mrs. J.

A—Yes, it is called tannin.

Q—My six-year-old son had a mild case of scarlet fever about a month ago. Now he seems to be growing all new fingernails, the new ones pushing out the old. Is this unusual or could he have had something else?

Mrs. O. F.

A—This is not unusual following scarlet fever or some other acute infection. Sometimes the hair and sometimes the nails are entirely replaced. This should occur, in all probability, without further difficulty.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—The Supreme Court decided to review a case the other day which had nothing to do with the Rosenberg-Greenglass atomic spy death sentence, but did have a great deal to do with Irving Kaufman, the judge who sentenced them to death. It also had a great deal to do with one of the greatest perennial problems of the nation's capital—keeping track of lobbyists.

The story is more colorful than that of the atomic spies—and not so sordid.

It goes back to a period just before Pearl Harbor when a genial gentleman wearing a broad-brimmed hat with only a few dollars in his pocket came up from Texas, leaving behind a none too savory reputation. After only six years in Washington, this columnist found him on a first-name basis with various senators. A heavy speculator on the Chicago commodity market, the owner of 7,000 acres of cotton land around Granger, Texas, 1,800 acres and 700 cattle near San Antonio, plus a 531-acre farm near Poolesville, Md.

The gentleman in question is ebullient, back-slapping, fast-talking Ralph Moore, whose meteoric rise as a capital lobbyist illustrates how a man with a happy smile, a ball-bearing tongue and plenty of gall can roll up a fortune overnight. His career also illustrates how a smart operator could manipulate the commodity market when millions in Europe were starving.

Moore is delightfully frank about his career. Visited in his converted office building at 1707 N. Street, the gentleman from Texas sat against a backdrop of mounted longhorns, handsome paintings and ornate gray-green draperies.

"I never have to bribe anybody," he bragged. "It's a bad practice. I just show them how to make a little money. If you give a man $500 or $1,000 he feels like he owes you something and that you are trying to bribe him. But if you just show him how to make money, he doesn't feel like he owes you anything. That's what I do with my contacts. That's what I would do with you if I trusted you."

SENATORS SPECULATE

Asked whether he handled the grain speculations of any senators, Moore said that he did not, but that several of them had speculated and usually operated through Bache & Co. in Washington, or Harris & Vose in New York.

"I expect I have more friends on Capitol Hill than anyone else in town," expanded the genial Texan, looking out his window at his Belgian car beneath.

On the wall beside his desk hung a picture of Ralph Moore with officials of the Jack & Heintz war plant in Cleveland, another picture showing Moore with Senators Thomas of Oklahoma, Bankhead of Alabama and others dining at the Mayflower Hotel, and so on.

"Making money is easy," continued Moore, "if you know what the market is going to do. I'll make you some money right away and it won't cost you a dime, if you'll go easy on me. But I'm afraid of you. I'm afraid you might put it in the paper. If I could only trust you, I could make you quite a few thousand dollars in a hurry."

THREATENED TO KILL

There came a time when the genial gentleman from Texas did not feel quite so expensive toward this columnist, in fact there came a time when Ralph sent word he was going "to shoot that so-and-so Pearson" if he kept on digging into his commodity-market speculation on behalf of Senator Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma.

This was about the time Judge Kaufman entered the picture. Irving Kaufman was not a judge then. He was a rather green, hard-working, conscientious young attorney who had come down from New York on the somewhat thankless job of enforcing the new lobbying registration act. That act had just been put on the books as a result of influence peddlers who flocked to Washington during the lush days of the New Deal, preying both on unsuspecting businessmen and unsuspecting senators.

Finally congress decided that while there was no way to abolish lobbying, it was only fair to make all lobbyists register, so the public would know who they were. This was in accord with the Foreign Agents Registration Act, which requires attorneys and representatives for foreign embassies to register so the public may identify them.

Kaufman grabbed hold of the Ralph Moore case with gusto, when it was placed before him, and made it the first test of the new lobbying act. Moore was indicted, along with Tom Linder of Georgia and J. E. McDonald of Texas for failing to register as lobbyists while pulling wires and trying to influence senators.

The other day, however, the Supreme Court indicated that it felt differently. It agreed to review the first test case of the lobbying act initiated by Judge Kaufman, and the decision declaring the act unconstitutional by Judge Holtzoff. Upon this review will hang the important question of whether the public has a right to know the identity of those who pull wires and influence people in Washington.

The Tinderbox

Controversial Aircraft

Critics Take Aim At B-52; Performance Exceeds Hopes

THE EIGHT-JET B-52: In-flight refueling gives it an intercontinental capability.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — America's newest weapon, the Boeing B-52 eight-jet long-range bomber, is exceeding Air Force hopes in practically every aspect of performance.

But like the giant B-36, which it will soon be replacing, it also holds promise of becoming another controversial aircraft.

Critics of the B-36 have already begun tailoring their old complaints to fit the B-52. They say that it does not have the range to give it intercontinental capabilities. Although the range of the B-52 is a secret, the Air Force has said that it was built for in-flight refueling, which could give it an intercontinental capability.

Critics claim that it is more expensive than it is worth, that the same money could buy better defense in other weapons. Testimony before Congress reveals that the first 100 B-52s will cost about $380,000,000.

There are reports that Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson might agree with the cost appraisal of the giant bomber. He is said to believe that the fact that Russia now has atomic weapons calls for more emphasis on defensive, interceptor aircraft, rather than on offensive bombers.

At the recent atomic test at Las Vegas, the Air Force went out of its way to point out that its fighters could carry improved small A-bombs. This raises the question as to whether the Air Force should buy any more bombers at all, or perhaps concentrate on designing long-range fighter-bombers.

Still another question is whether to wait and concentrate on piloted supersonic bombers, now being designed, as the interim weapons until pilotless bombers and guided missiles are perfected.

The Air Force has announced that the Consolidated-Vultee Aircraft Corp. now has a contract for the design of a supersonic bomber. It is believed that it might be a four-engine, delta-wing type.

wing type.

Some sources say the B-52 has supersonic capabilities. It is reported that the frame of the B-52 can stand the shock of flying faster than the speed of sound and that expected improvements in power could eventually give it that ability.

The two big surprise factors in the B-52 have been the performance of its J-57 Pratt & Whitney jet engines and the lack of "drag" or friction in the air resulting from the plane's "clean" design.

The J-57 is reported to have more than 10,000 pounds of thrust, or nearly twice that officially listed for the engines now pushing Sabre jets in Korea, for instance. There are eight J-57s on the B-52.

One J-57 has already been proved as powerful as four 3500-horsepower Wasp Major engines, the most powerful piston engine ever made for a plane. In addition, the engine is said to be setting new records in fuel economy, vital in giving the bomber longer range.

The J-57 is also going to power a new line of Air Force and Navy fighters which will be in the supersonic class. It is hailed as the first American jet engine to exceed performance of any British jets.

B-52 test pilots say the plane is extremely easy to handle and very maneuverable. Its official ceiling is given as above 50,000 feet, more than a mile higher than the B-36. It can land at a slower, safer speed than the smaller B-47.

The B-52 is slightly smaller than the B-36. Its wingspan is 185 feet, 45 feet shorter; fuselage length is 153 feet, nine feet less; its tail, 48 feet high, is a little more than a foot higher than the tail of the B-36.

Production of the B-52 in Boeing's huge Seattle plant is proceeding satisfactorily, although it is not expected that the B-52 will begin replacing B-36s until late next year.

One of the reasons given for the plane's early success in the air is the fact that the Air Force and Boeing have a lot of experience from the development of the Boeing B-47 medium bomber, now in mass production in several plants and already in operational use. So far the B-52's performance has been so good that its testing program has gone along about twice as fast as it normally does for a new type plane.

Good Evening...

By CLINT DUNATHAN

ONE JUMP AHEAD—The Str. Widener was one jump ahead of Don Bichler, Escanaba diver, and Capt. B. J. Gallagher, Escanaba marine contractor, in raising the anchor of the ore carrier Munising, which was lost in Little Bay de Noc about three years ago.

The Str. Widener, anchored in the harbor in riding out a blow before trying to take on a cargo of ore at the C&NW docks, raised her hook and also pulled up the lost anchor of the Munising.

"We had planned to go out this coming weekend and pick up that anchor," Capt. Gallagher could make it," Bichler said. "I knew where it was because I found it last summer and placed a line on it."

Bichler has been doing considerable diving in Little Bay de Noc, looking for anchors to salvage, among other things. Last year they brought up the anchor of the Jupiter, lost only a short time before. They received $400 for their work.

Ship's anchors weigh anywhere from 300 to 8,000 pounds, are worth a considerable amount new or salvaged. But an old anchor chain? Little value to it, says Bichler, because a chain is only as strong as its weakest link, and if it broke once it will probably break again.

WITH ALL APOLOGY — Not being one of Escanaba long-time residents it is possible for me to make some of the most obvious errors when I write about the old days—or even days that are not so old.

One of these boners appeared in yesterday's column and our attention was directed to it almost immediately by Gust Asp.

Writing about the year 1906 in Escanaba, as reported by an old copy of The Iron Port, a former newspaper here, I described its manager as the "late" G. F. McEwen.

George F. McEwen of 406 Ogden is one and the same with the G. F. McEwen who managed the Iron Port in 1906. Gust Asp informed me. He is neither to be classified as late nor even tardy.

Therefore it is necessary to announce that our mistake was in a similar category to the famous one denied by Mark Twain—it was greatly exaggerated.

Not only that, but George McEwen is a member of the Typographical Union and from the standpoint of membership is one of the oldest (if not the oldest) member in Northern Michigan.

FLOWERS FROM HEAVEN—Saturday marked the 50th anniversary observance of the State Bank of Escanaba and last Sunday was Mothers' Day. The two events may seem unrelated but here's the story.

Baskets of flowers and messages of goodwill and congratulations deluged the State Bank and its officials in connection with its anniversary.

At St. Francis Hospital, with Mothers' Day just around the corner, the Sisters combined prayers with their wish that someone would remember all of the mothers in the hospital on Mothers' Day.

At the State Bank of Escanaba the great baskets of flowers would soon wilt. The bank would be closed on Sunday. What better use for them than to send them to the hospital to cheer the sick?

Saturday night most of the baskets of flowers went to the hospital, and on the following days the mothers who could not be with their families at home were a bit happier because of the flowers that decorated their rooms.

HALF SLAVE, HALF FREE—Escanaba's dog population, not inconsiderable in number, has achieved no equality as a result of the city's dog law.

The ordinance requires that all dogs be confined or on leash from May 1 through Sept. 30.

But many dogs are running at large, without collar, license or rope about their necks, while other pine away the bright days behind fences or at the end of a leash. In other words, the city's dog law is not being observed by many of the city's dog owners.

Complaints to the police have been frequent from people who do not like to have their gardens cultivated by pooches. But to our knowledge not one dog owner has been haled into court to have the judge assess fine and costs.

And as one dog said to the other: "It just isn't fair."

We wonder how many germs in kissing have died from painter's colic.

President Ike's proposal to use money saved on armaments to help backward countries is noble, but Arch Nearbrite wonders if we couldn't keep some of it just a little bit to admire.

Mrs. Eisenhower Watches Budget In Buying Clothes

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

Mamie Eisenhower buys her clothes with an eye to her budget, and approaches each major occasion with the usual feminine wail of "I haven't a thing to wear!"

That's a nice thing about the first lady, says Mollie Parnis, the New York manufacturer-designer who makes most of her clothes—she's so normal. Says Mollie:

"Mrs. Eisenhower is the typical American woman—warm, feminine and pretty; interested in clothes but thrifty about her selections; clever about accessories and colors; proud of her husband and son; crazy about her grandchildren; young in looks because she's young in spirit."

Garment Trade Delighted

Mrs. Eisenhower's frank enthusiasm for average priced American ready-to-wear has worked like a vitamin injection on the vast U. S. garment industry. Its members were first amazed, then delighted, when the new first lady put aside her Paris originals in favor of American $50 ready-made dresses to be found in every town in the land. Mollie Parnis explains:

"Mrs. Eisenhower is no different from any other woman whose husband makes a good salary, but who can't afford to throw her money around. Like most of us, she has just so much to spend for clothes. And she has found that a woman can be fashionably dressed without wrecking her budget."

With present taxes, Mollie says, there are fewer and fewer women who can afford $500 for a simple custom-made dress. The great American ready-made is the symbol of a new era. The newest Paris fashions are copied in $49.98 mass-production models almost before women have had time to study the originals in the fashion magazines. New fabrics and finishes add to the beauty and practicality of the ready-mades. New systems of sizing make it possible for almost any woman to find a perfect fit without extensive alterations.

Equal to Emergency

Miss Parnis, in private life Mrs. Leon J. Livingstone, is enjoying her job as fashion adviser to the first lady. The private phone on her desk at her Seventh Avenue office often rings these days with a special urgency as a thrilled switchboard girl says:

"Miss Parnis, it's the White House again!"

Sometimes it's Mrs. Eisenhower on the phone and sometimes it's her secretary with an SOS for "a couple of short dinner dresses" or "something for receiving 500 ladies day after tomorrow." Whatever the emergency, Mollie is equal to it. Recently she even arranged to

ELIZABETH the Queen

By Marion Crawford
Former Governor of New Mexico

IX

And still there is that inescapable resemblance of Queen Elizabeth to Queen Victoria, who was so beautiful as a young woman. I remember an old friend of the Royal Family saying to me, as we watched the crowds swirling round the Princess at one of the first garden parties at Buckingham Palace after the war:

"When I was a child I saw Queen Victoria pass in a coach. Although she was very old then, she had in her eyes a calm confidence and determination which I have often seen mirrored in the eyes of Princess Elizabeth."

The remark surprised me a little at the time it was spoken. I had too many happy memories of Princess Elizabeth flushed with laughter, romping in the schoolroom or garden, to see her as a Queen.

Royal Dignity

But now that I have watched her come into womanhood and take on the Royal dignity that belongs to her, I am convinced that the man at the garden party was right.

There are other things I have remembered, too, as I've watched Princess Elizabeth and her husband Prince Philip together.

I have thought of the responsibilities the Princess must bear at the same time as her duties as a wife and mother.

It was just as much of a trial for her to have her husband overseas making his tour of duty in Malta as it would have been for any other naval officer's wife.

At the same time she had to carry an increasing load of responsibility temporarily lifted from her father's shoulders.

When she at last found time to fly out to her husband, some people were openly critical. No one would have questioned the right of another naval officer's wife to do the same thing, providing she left her children in good hands.

Was Princess Elizabeth to be less a wife because she was heir ess to the Throne?

Surely her stature is the greater because she is indeed a good wife and mother.

And what babies in the world have been left in better hands than those which care for Prince Charles and his sister Princess Anne? Later I shall show with what kindness they are tended, by two capable nurses, under the watchful, loving eye of their grandmother.

A Good Father

And Prince Philip, who is a have a hem shortened for the first lady in time for lunch, working by long distance phone.

sailor before he is a courtier, is above all a good father, anxious for his children's welfare.

He has lived his life among men who judge one another by their real worth. When he took command of the frigate Magpie in the Mediterranean, he was the youngest Lieutenant-Commander in the flotilla.

A naval friend of mine told me that, though he was always popular in the Navy, there were some who thought his appointment sprang from privilege. They expected him to be "nursed" by an experienced first lieutenant.

But they were wrong, as Prince Philip quickly showed them.

When he left his ship to come home, his crew felt that they had lost not only a brilliant Captain, but also a close friend.

For a naturally proud and regal person, Prince Philip has a strange simplicity of approach. I have never seen him other than courteous and correct to everyone. And if he ever meets a shipmate of whatever rank, who has served with him, he is always quick to speak to him, wherever the two of them are.

"This Is My Wife"

In this way he introduced to the King and Queen an old friend he saw in the crowd surrounding the Royal Family at a garden party. And similarly, at a reception for the Royal couple in Nottingham, he met the man who had been his personal servant in H. M. S. Wallace during the war. They chatted together for a few minutes. The man said, "I would like to introduce my wife, sir."

Prince Philip looked at the woman. "I hope you are taking as good care of him as he used to of me," he said, and went on: "Now you must meet my wife."

Princess Elizabeth was at the other side of the room. Prince Philip went over to fetch her. "I should like you to meet some friends of mine, darling," he told her.

Then he introduced the waiting couple to her. "This is my wife," he said.

District Director To Conduct PTA Conference Here

Mrs. Morris Cohodes of Iron Mountain, Seventh District director of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers, will conduct a conference, "How to Work in P. T. A.", Thursday, May 21 at 8 p. m. at the Escanaba Junior High School. The meeting is under the sponsorship of the Escanaba P. T. A. Council and is being organized by Mrs. Glenn Matheson, Council president.

The purpose of the conference is to aid new officers and chairmen in their work and to answer questions about P. T. A. "tools" (manuals, publications and pamphlets). There will be a discussion on the P. T. A. manual including objects, policies, by-laws and parliamentary procedures.

A film, "Teachers In Print," on how to use the P. T. A. publications such as P. T. A. magazines and state and national bulletins will be shown.

Special invitations have been issued to the incoming P. T. A. officers and committee chairman of this area. However, attendance is not limited to those receiving invitations. Anyone interested in learning more about the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers, its objects and policies, and how to put them into effect in local associations is urged to attend.

Architect Wright Says Cities Are Moving To Country

NEW YORK (AP)—In 25 years grass will grow in the streets of New York and flowers will bloom on the sidewalks, says noted architect Frank Lloyd Wright.

The cities are "moving to the country," Mr. Wright said after being named to receive the annual Gold Medal for Architecture of the National Institute of Arts and Letters later this month.

"The city is a hangover from feudal times," he said. "Once it was necessary, but it reached and passed its peak and now you will see it disappearing."

Consumer Prices Still Above 1952

LANSING (AP)—The Michigan consumers price index declined 0.4 per cent from December to March, the State Labor Department said.

Compared to a base of 100 for September of 1951, the March index was 177.5. This was still 2.0 per cent higher than March of 1952.

Consumer prices advanced during the December to March period in Flint and Grand Rapids, decreased in Kalamazoo, Lansing, Marquette, Muskegon, Pontiac and Detroit and remained unchanged in Battle Creek, Saginaw and Bay City.

The sharpest rise, 0.4 per cent, was recorded in Flint. Grand Rapids had a rise of 0.1 per cent.

The largest decline among out-state cities, 0.3 per cent, was shared by Kalamazoo, Lansing and Marquette. Detroit had a drop of 0.7 per cent.

Russia May Return Japanese Prisoners

OSAKA, Japan (AP)—Soviet Russia may repatriate Japanese World War II war criminals who have completed terms in prison, the deputy director of Japan's repatriation relief board said.

Gen. Shigeo Tanabe said letters recently sent by Japanese detained in Soviet prisons to relatives in Japan hinted that they may be returned soon.

Lady Legislator Has Alphabetical Party

MONTPELIER, Vt. (AP)—The alphabet has always been used in Washington for bureaus and agencies, but Vermont uses it for social activities.

Women legislators were entertained at the home of Rep. Aline Ward of Moretown. Women whose names began with the letters A through L were guests at a buffet supper one night while M through Z attended the next night.

There are 54 women in the Legislature.

VISITING FIREMEN
HERMOSILLO, Sonora, Mexico (AP)—The Arizona Firemen's Association held its annual meeting here with more than 150 fire chiefs and firemen in attendance.

It was the first time the Arizona firemen had ever met outside the United States. Special courtesy permits were issued to delegates and their wives by the Mexican government.

More Laws Get O. K. In Lansing

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams has signed legislation granting temporary annual licenses to Canadian physicians and displaced persons, physicians pending their naturalization.

The new law allows a maximum of 63 persons to qualify for medical practice in Michigan. The bill was recommended by the State Medical Society, the State Board of Registration in Medicine and the State Commission on Displaced Persons.

The governor hailed the measure as increasing the number of doctors in Michigan and making use of the talents of refugees from other countries.

Williams also approved six other minor bills to:

Increase register of deeds fees from 50 cents to $1 for filing chattel mortgage instruments.

Authorize the Detroit auditor general to audit Detroit school district records.

Establish a definite procedure for the payment of Detroit school district accounts.

Repeat the local act establishing the Hudson school district, placing it under the general school code.

Allow the use of voting machines in school district elections.

Permit third class school districts to hold school elections coincident with city elections or the biennial spring election.

Model Of Coronation Coach Set Up In Rockefeller Center

NEW YORK (AP)—A glittering, gold-fringed model of the coach in which Queen Elizabeth II will ride to her coronation is being set up in Rockefeller Center.

It's two-thirds life size, and includes 30 gray horses, postillions, attendants, yeomen and guards, all in clay and plaster. The display, opening Monday, has an overall length of 90 feet.

Owned by E. R. Lewis, a London phonograph record manufacturer, the model reportedly cost $3,000 more than the $25,000 that King George III spent on the original coronation coach in 1762.

O-JIB-WA BITTERS KEEPS ME ON MY FEET SAYS 85 YEAR OLD MAN

"Your wonderful medicine is the only thing that keeps me going, and I want to share with other sufferers of rheumatism and arthritis my good fortune in discovering O-JIB-WA BITTERS," says Mr. August Weller, R. No. 1, Newaygo, Michigan.

"I offer this testimonial because when I find a product as good as O-JIB-WA BITTERS, I am always anxious to share it with others. For five years, I was barely able to get around as rheumatism and arthritis in my right leg caused me such misery. I am 85 years old and was in pretty bad shape, especially when the weather was bad. That always seemed to make me worst. I am not a person that gives up easily though, so I continued to hop around in spite of the fact that it was difficult and very painful. The druggist where I trade told me he knew of many people helped by O-JIB-WA BITTERS, and told me I should try it. I am happy to say that in the first week I enjoyed some relief and by the end of a month was able to get around the best I have in years. I have been taking it since and can say that it is the only thing keeping me on my feet. I wouldn't be able to keep going without O-JIB-WA BITTERS. I really feel good now for a man of my age, and sure recommend it to anybody, anywhere, suffering from rheumatism and arthritis. I have tried many medicines in my lifetime, and have never found anything to equal O-JIB-WA BITTERS."

Stop Potato Blights with dependable Du Pont

PARZATE®

Fungicide

Now you can stop early blight and late blight at their worst . . . and keep spray costs down while your yields go up. Du Pont "Parzate" does the job and does it economically. Use it all season long; it gives full protection in the field and reduces danger of blight rot in storage.

When you use "Parzate" for blight control, the leaves stay greener, and the vines grow more vigorously. That's because "Parzate" doesn't burn or stunt the crop while it controls disease. It's also the reason why you get higher yields and more No. 1 potatoes.

Manzate®, Du Pont's newest fungicide in the same dithiocarbamate family as "Parzate" is especially effective for control of potato and tomato diseases. On potatoes, it's ideal where early and late blight attack at the same time. Try "Manzate" this season on a test acreage.

Use "Parzate" liquid (nabam) for quick-mixing sprays.

Use "Parzate" dry (zinab) for dust mixtures or for sprays.

See your dealer now for "Parzate" and other proved Du Pont pest control products. Ask him also for free booklets, or write Du Pont Grasselli Chemicals Dept., 161 West Wisconsin Ave., Milwaukee, Wis., or Wilmington, Del.

On all chemicals always follow directions for application. Where warning or caution statements on use of the product are given, read them carefully.

Thompson Gets New Assessment

Thompson township assessment figures for 1953, as established by Floyd Sample, former supervisor, and approved by the board of review, were discarded and new assessments entered in the township roll by the Michigan State Tax Commission here yesterday.

The new valuation established by the tax commission totaled $457,040 as compared to $480,000 approved by the township board of review. The tax commission, cancelling board of review entries in the assessment book, entered new page columns of valuations based largely on 1952 equalized figures. Added to the 1952 total were $8,380 in new valuations.

The tax commission hearing, opening at 11 yesterday morning, was conducted by Louis M. Nims, chairman. Also present was Clarence Paddock, commissioner.

Those questioned during the hearing were William J. Sheehan, prosecuting attorney, and Alfred Erickson and John Olsen, Thompson board of review members.

New valuations were entered in the assessment book during the afternoon by Sheldon Markle, of Lansing, director of the tax commission field administration.

Assisting were members of the county equalization committee and the two members of the Thompson board of review. Members of the equalization committee are W. G. Stephens, Manistique, chairman; William W. Davidson, Doyle, A. W. Heitman, Manistique; William Popour, Inwood; Ernest Hoholik, Thompson; and Wells Bowers, Mueller, chairman of the board of supervisors and ex officio member of the committee.

The Board of Supervisors will meet again at 10 a. m. Tuesday, May 19, to complete equalization of county assessments.

At its annual April meeting the board rejected the Thompson assessment roll because of alleged irregularities, and later Ernest Hoholik, elected supervisor at the April 6 voting, petitioned the tax commission to review township assessment figures.

Mothers' Tea Given By Brownie Groups

Approximately 100 daughters, mothers, and a lone father gathered recently at Lakeside gym for something new in Girl Scout functions—a city-wide Brownie Scout mothers' tea.

Each troop presented a portion of the program which follows: Brownie pledge and promise, Mrs. E. J. Doyle's troop, Candlelight invitational ceremony, Mrs. James H. Fyvie's and Mrs. Eric Knight's troop.

Song, "Crowe Ballad," Mrs. Ed Mathson's and Mrs. Ed Jorgenson's troop.

Song, "Girl Scouts," and play, "A Gift for Mother," Mrs. T. H. Reque's and Mrs. Richard Foley's troop.

Various troops united in singing "Mother" and each Scout presented her mother with a carnation corsage. The event was concluded with the serving of light refreshments by the Scouts.

Girls and leaders assisted Mrs. Glenn Pawley and her committee with kitchen preparations.

To Air Manistique Supervisor Matter At June Court Term

The Manistique township supervisor controversy will be aired at the June term of Circuit Court, it was learned yesterday at the office of G. Leslie Bouschor, county clerk.

The June term opens Monday afternoon, June 15.

Heard at that time will be information in quo warranto proceedings instituted several weeks ago by Herbert Burns, defeated ships candidate, and an answer recently filed by William Rodman, incumbent, who was certified as elected following a recount of April 6 votes.

Also heard will be a motion to dismiss the quo warranto listing of the Manistique township board as an interpleaded defendant. The quo warranto action specified Rodman as the principal defendant.

Errors, Fraud Denied
 George Baldwin, Manistique attorney, represents Burns and Rodman has retained the services of Herbert, Wood and Hood, Manistique legal firm.

Rodman's answer denies quo warranto allegations that there were errors, fraud and irregularities in the recount; that Rodman is illegally holding the office of supervisor; or that votes were not properly recounted.

The answer also charged that 44 or more slips on ballots counted as votes for Burns were crossed with a blue pencil outside the voting booth and that ballots so marked are invalid and should not have been counted.

Sheehan At Recount
 The answer also points out that William J. Sheehan, prosecuting attorney, was present at the recount and "that the board, to the best knowledge and belief of defendant, applied the same principles of law regarding the validity or invalidity of voted ballots to all ballots so recounted, whether or not they purported to be ballots in favor of the plaintiff or in favor of the defendant. Upon information and belief this defendant alleges that the said board was guilty of no fraud, irregularity or error in relation to the counting or canvassing of said ballots, or in the certification of results of said recount and canvass."

The vote recount, conducted at the Manistique township hall, resulted in a tie of 173 votes for Rodman and Burns. A drawing by lot subsequently took place, with Rodman winning.

Doris Walstrom Wedded To Denver Man On April 30

Miss Doris Walstrom, Denver, Colo., daughter of Mrs. Hilmi Walstrom, Oak St., became the bride April 30, of Robert L. Jones, of Denver, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Jones, of Clearfield, Utah, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stelzes, of Denver. The Rev. Lund, pastor of Messiah Lutheran Church, Denver, officiated at the ceremony.

The ceremony, which took place before a fireplaced banked with baskets of mixed flowers, was held at 7:30 p. m. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Virgil Arrowood and Mr. Arrowood sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer." The Arrowoods are former Manistique residents.

The bride was attired in a white suit with maroon accessories. She wore a corsage of rose buds.

Mrs. H. S. Hale was matron of honor. She wore a blue suit with pink accessories and a corsage of rose buds.

H. S. Hale served as best man and Gwen Lynn Hale was flower girl.

Mrs. Walstrom attended her daughter's wedding in a navy blue street length dress with white accessories. Mrs. Jones, the bridegroom's mother, also wore a navy blue street length dress with white accessories. Both mothers wore red rose corsages.

A reception was held following the ceremony for 50 guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stelzes. A tiered wedding cake centered the serving table. The couple are making their home in Denver.

The bride is a graduate of Manistique high school and also attended the school of nursing at Harper Hospital in Detroit. The bridegroom is a graduate of Omaha high school and he attended the University of Utah. At present he is employed at the Rocky Mountain News, Denver.

Out-of-town guests attending were Mrs. Helmi Walstrom, of Manistique, and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Jones of Clearfield, Utah.

Fourth Inter-Club Shooting Event To Be Held Sunday

The Manistique Rifle and Pistol Club and the Schoolcraft County Sportsmen's Club will hold their fourth inter-club rifle and pistol match Sunday afternoon, May 17, beginning at 2 p. m., it is announced by Arthur Hough, president of the gun club.

The event will be held at the Manistique Heights range, and will be followed by lunch and refreshments furnished by members of the gun club.

Off-hand competition with 22 caliber rifles will launch the afternoon's matches. Pistol shooting will follow.

In charge of the shoot are Earl Cowman and Herbert Krause, of the sportsmen's club, and Arthur Hough and Sgt. N. H. Modders, of the pistol group.

"These friendly competitive matches are serving to get our two clubs together in a better spirit of cooperation," Hough said. "Each club serves a definite and worthy purpose in our community, and by working together they can accomplish much more for the benefit of conservationists and sportsmen."

Out-of-town guests attending were Mrs. Helmi Walstrom, of Manistique, and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Jones of Clearfield, Utah.

New Folder Is To Be Printed

Authority to engage Clarence E. Moreau, Escanaba, to lay out a new Gladstone folder and have 10,000 copies printed at a cost of about $455,000 was given at a meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce this week.

It also was decided to make the next meeting a dinner meeting open to all. This will be on June 9. H. T. Brewer was named the official delegate of the C-C on the Gladstone Hospital Authority with Charles Burton as his associate.

Gladstone city signs are to be re-finished and reworded and suggestions are requested. The winner will be awarded a five dollar prize. Frank Jandro, Charles Burton and Rev. Theophil Hoffmann form the board of judges.

Because of the cost the matter of re-finishng the street markers with luminous paint was temporarily tabled. It was suggested to limit the work to Delta avenue and 9th street.

The board also went on record as interested in determining the possibility of the city improving the lighting on the several entrances to the city, possibly with mercury-vapor lights similar to those on the main street.

Letters To The Editor

EXPLAINS C. OF C.
Gladstone, Mich.
May 14, 1953

To the Editor:

I am writing this to stop a rumor that has been circulated for several days to the effect that the Chamber of Commerce is trying to tell an industry how much they should pay their employees.

The Chamber of Commerce does not wish to do anything of the kind—it is up to the individual industry to set their wage schedule, not the chamber.

The Chamber of Commerce is the backbone of every city. It tries constantly to make the city a better place to live for you and me and all of us; to more industries and as a result more work for the working man. For the more you make the more you spend and it is better for all of us.

The Chamber of Commerce is spending $455 to get our city in front of the nation.

Remember if everyone of us spends just one hour per month working for better government what a wonderful city we would have.

Signed:
Frank Jandro,
President Gladstone
Chamber of Commerce.

Briefly Told

Church School—Church School will be held in the First Lutheran Church Saturday morning at 9:30.

Youth Choir—The youth choir of the First Lutheran Church meets at 10:45 Saturday morning for practice.

They're Not Taxing His Wit, Anyway

EMPORIA, Kas. (P)—Somebody evidently had a little difficulty getting in and out of the Emporia postoffice doors. He wrote a note on a blotter and left it in the lobby for all customers who cared to read.

"The doors of this building," the note said, "are hard to open because it is the only way the government can tax your strength."

CARD OF THANKS

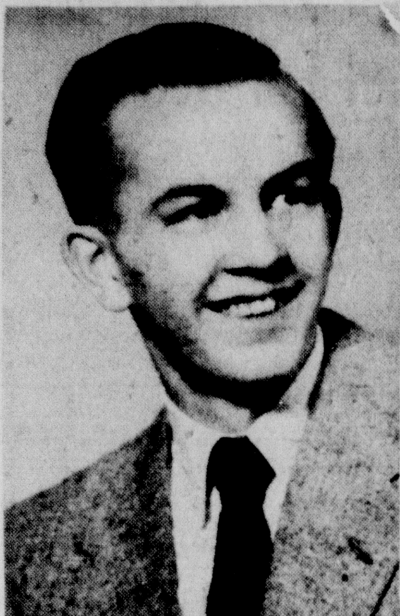

We wish to take this means of expressing our sincere appreciation of the wonderful acts of kindness shown us by neighbors and friends at the time of the death of our beloved husband, father and brother, Albert L'Heureux. Especially do we wish to thank the American Legion, those who sent flowers and spiritual offerings, those who donated the use of their cars, those who served as pallbearers and all others who aided us in so many ways. The memory of these acts of kindness will always remain with us.

Joseph Raiche, 75, Is Stricken

Joseph Raiche, 75, well-known former Gladstone resident, died yesterday at Fond du Lac, Wis., where he had been making his home for the past several years. He had been ill since last November.

Raiche was born in Bie, Canada, on Nov. 26, 1877, a son of Frank and Katherine Raiche. When 9 he came to the United States with his family. He first lived in Champion, then in Hermansville, and came to Gladstone 35 years ago. He resided in Gladstone the major part of his life.

For many years he managed the dry-goods department

O. E. of Escanaba.

Surviving are his widow, Anna, and eight daughters: namely, Mrs. Adelaide Riley, Mrs. Marie Ferris, Mrs. Lenora Pelkey and Mrs. Ruth McDermott, all of Fond du Lac, Mrs. Shirley LaCrosse and Mrs. Frank (Rita) DeCaire of Escanaba, Mrs. Sylvia Ponath of Milwaukee and Mrs. Dora Alish of Wisconsin Rapids.

A brother, Leo Raiche, Hermansville, also survives, as do three sisters, Mrs. Delvina Zimmerman, Hermansville; Mrs. Minnie Bussiere, Champion; and Mrs. Mary Provencher, Menominee. Thirty-eight grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren survive.

The body was brought to Gladstone and taken to the Skradslid funeral home where friends may call at any time. The rosary will be recited tonight at 8 at the home.

Funeral services are to be held Saturday morning at 10:15 in All Saints Catholic Church, the Rev. Fr. Matt LaViolette officiating. Burial will be in Fernwood cemetery.

Services Held For Mother Of Local Resident Monday

Funeral services for Mrs. Victoria Sligoski, 74, Manistee, mother of Mrs. Edward Goldsworthy of Gladstone, were conducted Monday at St. Joseph's Catholic church in Manistee. Burial was in Mt. Carmel cemetery at Manistee.

Mr. and Mrs. Goldsworthy and children Karen and Charles, have returned to Gladstone after attending the rites.

Mrs. Sligoski died at Manistee last Friday. Born Jan. 20, 1879 at Manistee, Mrs. Sligoski had been a lifelong resident of that community.

Surviving are her husband, Stanley, three daughters and two sons. There also are two grandchildren.

MARILYN A. VAN DE WEGHE, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Van De Weghe, Rte. 1, Gladstone, Mich., has maintained a high scholastic average during her four years in high school, and has been granted a State Board of Education Scholarship from Northern Michigan College of Education, Marquette. She has been a member of the girls' basketball team, the annual staff, the Senior Girls' League, G.A.A., and the Senior Class play.

Duane Peterson Is New Council Prexy

Duane Peterson, a junior, was elected president of the Student Council at Gladstone high school in an election held Wednesday.

James Sundalus was chosen vice president, Mary Beth Cannon secretary and Tom Brewer treasurer.

New members to the council were also chosen by each class in the junior and senior high schools.

City Briefs

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Peterson and her mother, Mrs. Gus Lindahl are leaving Saturday for Sister Bay and Sturgeon Bay, Wis., to spend the weekend visiting with relatives.

John Mathy is a medical patient at St. Francis Hospital.

Regional Track, Field Meet Draws 200 Here Saturday

Eleven Schools Will Take Part

Two hundred athletes from 11 high schools will compete in the regional track and field meet at the Escanaba athletic field here tomorrow.

Trackmen will be seeking to qualify for the Upper Peninsula finals meet to be held Saturday, May 23, at Marquette's Northern Michigan College of Education.

Schools represented here tomorrow will be Escanaba, Iron Mountain, Kingsford, Menominee and Stephenson in Class B. Alpha, Cooks, Bark River, Hermansville, Nahma and Rapid River in Class D-E.

George Ruwiche, Escanaba High School athletic director, is meet manager. Dick Schram will serve as referee with members of the school faculty serving as meet officials.

The all-day meet opens at 9:45 a. m. with the 120 yard high hurdles preliminaries, shot put, high jump, pole vault and broad jump. The meet continues through 4:10 p. m., concluding with the 880 yard relay finals.

Violation of a Michigan High School Athletic Association regulation concerning the number of events a thincad may participate in has cost Sault Ste. Marie its recent championship in the Soo Invitational meet. Soo school officials discovered this week that one of the Blue Devil sprinters had competed in too many events. Taking away all his points, the revised standings give Cheboygan the Invitational crown. Soo officials immediately notified state high school officials of the error and forwarded the championship trophy to Cheboygan.

Further information from Wyoming reveals that Pete Kutches gained 67 yards on the ground for the winning White team in the annual spring intra-squad grid game at the University of Wyoming. Working as a tailback, Kutches passed for 56 yards including a 21-yard touchdown as his team won 14-13. He actually provided the margin of victory by kicking both extra points.

Track fans are in for a treat tomorrow afternoon when the regional track and field meet is staged at Escanaba athletic field. The program starts at 9:45 a. m. and continues through 4:10 when the final 880 yard relay is scheduled. There will be 200 athletes from 11 schools competing in the meet. No admission will be charged at the gate.

Looking through the back files the other day we came across several stories about Eddie Holderman, former Escanaba High School athlete who was just about the best prep miler in the state back in the late 1930s. Holderman set a state record in the mile with a 4:34 clocking downstate. He had previously turned in a 4:31 time in the U. P. The fastest mile in the current Michigan high school record book is a 4:28.3 clocking for Ralph Brackrog of Mt. Morris in 1940.

Manistique Booster Team Tops U.P. Keg List In Final Week

The Manistique Royal Crowns are leading the booster team division of the Upper Peninsula men's bowling tournament as the affair moves into the final week-end of action at Negaunee.

The Manistique keggers lead the pack with a 2609 total. Trailing the Royal Crowns is Stella's Cafe of Gladstone with a 2553 score. No area teams are among the first ten in the regular team division or in all-events.

Still tied for second in the doubles event are Peters and Schuster of Manistique. Eddie Gravelle of Escanaba holds down eighth place in the singles. Peters-Schuster have a 1212 mark while Gravelle owns a 618 series.

And also still unchallenged is the tournament's high game of 288 rolled by George Walker of Escanaba.

Rolling in final action this week end will be keggers from Escanaba, Marquette, Peshigo, Wis., Ironwood, Sault Ste. Marie and L'Anse.

Total prize list for the tournament is $7,169. Entered were 129 regular teams, 138 booster teams, 477 doubles, 947 singles and 697 all-events.

Tiger Pitching Fails Again, A's Win 5 To 3

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Scattered armed Ted Gray, and most of Detroit's other pitchers, still are looking for their first American League victory.

And real good pitchers—which the Tigers thought they had until the season opened—win on the three-run, which the Detroiters gave Gray as he dropped a 5-3 decision to the Philadelphia Athletics here last night.

He could blame no one but Gray for his fourth loss in as many starts.

Other Tiger pitchers, particularly "I-want-To-Be-Traded" Art Houtteman, can blame nothing but their own ineffectiveness.

Why?

Boast Top Hitters
Two of the first 10 hitters, percentage-wise, in the American League are Tigers: Nieman (.318) and Kuenn (.311). The man with the most runs driven in also is a Tiger, Walt Dropo (22). The team as a whole is hitting in the first division, and few, if any hurlers, in the last dozen games can blame fielding for their poor, poor showing.

All of which makes the top brass very sad. Suppose they wanted to trade Houtteman or Gray, who'd have them? Neither has shown anything this season, so the Tigers could expect only "maybes" or "has-beens" in a swap. If Houtteman or Gray happened to win one now and then, it would be different.

12 Games Out
Today the Tigers still are in the cellar, where they've been since the opening games of 1952. They have won six, lost 21 and have a .222 average. They're 12 games out of first place in the young season.

Gray had better-than-usual control last night, walking only two, but he tossed up seven hits—all the A's got—before he was relieved in the seventh.

Both Marciano, Walcott Will Try For Knockout

By JERSEY JOE WALCOTT
CHICAGO (AP)—I'm in fine condition and think I can win tonight. If I get the chance at any time I will try for a knockout.
In 24 years of fighting I never lost a round on a foul or have I ever been warned for foul fighting. I hope in this fight I'm not butted and I figure I lost my championship as a result of being butted in the last fight.

If God is willing, I will be the first heavyweight to regain the title.

By ROCKY MARCIANO
CHICAGO (AP)—I am going to win tonight. This title means my entire future and I'm not giving it up easy. Walcott will have to knock me out to get the title back. He tried it once and he couldn't.

This fight will not go the limit. I don't think it will go eight rounds. I am going to be trying for a kyo for the start.

I don't underestimate Walcott. He fought a great fight against me in Philadelphia and some say I was lucky to win. Maybe I was, but I feel that I have improved since. He will find me a different fighter as champion.

Eskymos Get 24th Win Over Trojans, 5 To 2

The Escanaba Eskymos kept their amazing baseball victory string intact here yesterday afternoon by defeating the St. Joe Trojans 5-2. It was the 24th straight victory for Coach Jim Rounan's Eskys over a four-year stretch.

The Eskymos manufactured two runs in the initial inning and added another in the third for enough to win. But when St. Joe put over a pair in the top of the fourth, Escanaba matched it with two for insurance in the bottom of the inning.

Southpaw Fred Boddy fired his fourth straight mound win of the season for the Eskymos. Boddy scattered three hits, fanned 13 and failed to issue a walk.

Collect Six Hits
The Eskymos picked up six hits off Dick Cass who went the route for the Trojans. Cass walked five and fanned two.

Boddy, who poked two of the hits off Cass, provided the wood that drove in the first two Eskymo runs. Jim Beck walked, Paul Davidson hit into a fielder's choice and both runners were safe, and Joe Larmay walked to load the bases. Boddy rapped a single to score Beck and Davidson.

The Escanaba team made it 3-0 in the second inning when Beck walked and Larmay doubled to send him home.

In the fourth Beck doubled with one out. Davidson was safe on an error and Beck came in on a single by Larmay. Boddy drove in his third run with a double, Davidson scoring.

Trojans Score Two

St. Joe's two runs in the fourth came when catcher Bill Maycunich was safe on an error at first base and moved to third on a double by first baseman Gary Guertin. An error in centerfield on a fly ball hit by Bob Sendenburgh allowed both runners to score. The Trojans also had men on base in the sixth and seventh but were unable to score.

Third baseman Bob Rodman collected two of the hits off Boddy. Guertin had the third.

The Trojans were charged with four errors, Escanaba with three. The Eskymos take to the road seeking their 25th straight win at Stephenson Monday afternoon.

Wayne Knocks Wind Out Of Albion Sails

ALBION (AP)—A lot of wind had been knocked out of the baseball sails, so to speak, of Albion College today. Wayne, which had won only once in 11 previous starts, whipped the Brittons, 10-5, here yesterday. Sailing along at the top of the MIAA standings, Albion had lost only twice previously in 14 starts. Wayne is not an MIAA member.

Former Jockey Great Sees Close Preakness

By JOHN CHANDLER
NEW YORK (AP)—Take it from Earle Sande, one time jockey great, the Preakness May 23 will be a repetition of the thrilling Kentucky Derby with Dark Star and "that big grey colt" fighting it out again in the $100,000 classic at Baltimore.

Sande speaks with the voice of experience when he talks of the "Big Grey" (Native Dancer) and Dark Star. Naturally, at the age of 55, he's not figuring on riding either of them, but it wasn't too many years ago that he piloted some of the nation's greatest thoroughbreds over the hallowed racing strips of Churchill Downs and Pimlico.

"I saw the Derby on television, but I didn't see Money Broker slam into Native Dancer as they say he did," Sande remarked as he watched the horses parade in the walking ring at Belmont Park.

"I thought Native Dancer ran a wonderful race, coming from way back to almost beat Dark Star. But, you can't take anything away from Dark Star, because he set all the pace and hung on with tremendous courage to win by a head."

Manistique Cardinals Open On Road Sunday

MANISTIQUE—The 1953 edition of the Manistique Cardinals will make their official debut Sunday afternoon in a Bay de Noc League game at Garden, it is announced by Manager Fred Lesica.

Game time is 2 p. m. and team members will leave Manistique at 12:15.

Because practice has been hampered by poor weather and lack of adequate facilities, the quality of this year's Cardinals is unknown, Lesica said. The starting lineup will not be determined until just prior to game time, he stated.

Back from last year's team are Pitchers Don Carlson and Al Adams, Catcher Dick Makinen, and Marvin Frederickson, Homer Weber and Manager Lesica. New members of the aggregation are Rudy Brandstrom, Jack Phillips, Douglas Harding, Francis Selling and Ray Cummings. Bob McNamara, nursing an ankle injured in track, will be available later, and Mason Rhoads also may be back in uniform.

Red Stewart is slated to do Manistique's umpiring this season, and William Larson will serve as business manager and score keeper.

Douglas Leading Meadow Brook

WESTBURY, N. Y. (AP)—The $17,500 Meadow Brook round robin golf tournament swung into its 36-hole "iron man" phase today with Dave Douglas' irons and Sam Snead's right hand the chief items of concern.

Douglas, 35-year-old touring pro from Newark, Del., is off to a big first round lead and, if he can continue his peerless iron play, there may be no overtaking him before Sunday's windup.

Defending champion Snead has aggravated a nine-year-old hand injury and may prove to be not much of a factor.

Douglas shot a 66, a course competitive record, in the first round Thursday to pile up a point score of plus 18, fourteen better than his closest challengers, Lloyd Mangrum, Bobby Locke, Jimmy Demaret and Jim Ferrier, each with plus 6.

Snead rallied to shoot a 69, and was even with the board.

George Selkirk New Toledo Sox Manager

TOLEDO, O. (AP)—Former New York Yankee star George Selkirk is the new manager of the Toledo Sox. The American Association club hired him Thursday after firing Tommy Holmes.

Selkirk, whose duties start as Toledo meets the Millers Saturday night in Minneapolis, managed a Yankee farm club, the Kansas City Blues, in 1951 and 1952.

Toledo, considered earlier in the season as a hot contender for the Association title, is in last place with a 9-16 record.

The Sox are the former Milwaukee Brewers, whose franchise was moved here after the Boston Braves National League franchise was shifted to Milwaukee.

The Insurance Association Little Bigger League team will practice Wednesday evening at 6:30 a. m. Royce Park diamond.

MY WORD, TWIGGS! DO THESE OLD BATTLE-SMOKED EYES PLAY ME FALSE OR IS THIS OLAF PATRICK CHUNG, THE OLD INDIAN WRESTLER?—AWK! THIS IS A SURPRISE!

STAND BY FOR BRIEFING, OLAF!

The New Yorkers wore the same outfits that regularly have been giving the other clubs the shakes, but the White Sox just kept coming back for more at Yankee Stadium yesterday and wound up with their third straight victory over the World Champions.

The score was 7-5 with the winning runs coming in the ninth inning on the type of finish the Yankees thought was their own private patent.

Own Edge on Yanks

Chicago is the only club in the league with a winning margin over the champions, having won three of four starts. The Sox continue their visit with the Yankees today and tomorrow. With the kind of hitting and hustle they showed yesterday they could leave town in first place. At the moment the Yankees lead them by a game and a half.

The contrast between the White Sox and the Cleveland Indians, most experts' choice as the Yanks' most dangerous rival, was startling. The Indians showed almost nothing in two games in New York earlier in the week.

Yesterday, with ex-Yankee catcher Sherm Lollar showing the way, the White Sox fought back from a 4-1 deficit to lead 5-4, then rallied again after Don Bollweg had homered for New York to tie the score. Lollar lifted one into the seats with two on in the seventh and singled to start the ninth inning uprising. He also starred defensively, picking two men off second base and throwing out one would-be base thief.

Braves Tie For First

While all this was going on, Cleveland was losing its fourth in a row, at Boston, 5-4, in 11 innings. In night games Washington won its sixth straight, 2-1, over St. Louis and Philadelphia nipped Detroit, 5-3.

Milwaukee pulled into a tie with the Philadelphia Phillies for the National League lead as cold wet weather in the Midwest continued to disrupt the schedule.

The Braves scored two runs in the ninth inning to edge the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3-2. The Phillies were forced into idleness by cold weather in Chicago.

The St. Louis Cardinals evened their season's record with the Brooklyn Dodgers by whipping them, 8-3, in the only other National League game. The New York Giants' contest at Cincinnati was postponed because of rain.

Rally In Ninth

Held to four hits by knuckleballer Johnny Lindell in the first, eight innings, the Braves opened the ninth with Sid Gordon drawing a walk. Andy Pafko doubled with the score. Lollar lifted one into the seats with two on in the seventh and singled to start the ninth inning uprising. He also starred defensively, picking two men off second base and throwing out one would-be base thief.

In losing to Boston, Cleveland blew three early leads gained on home runs by Al Rosen in the second inning, Joe Tipton in the third and Jim Lemon in the fourth.

Senators Climbing
Boston tied the score for the last time with two runs in the eighth and won out in the 11th when Jim Piersall singled home Ted Lepcio with two down. Lepcio also homered for the Red Sox.

Washington's winning streak has moved the Senators up to the .500 mark and to within 4 1/2 games of first place. Frank Shea won his second straight over the Browns after weathering a ninth inning rally.

The Tigers stumbled deeper into the cellar by losing to Harry Byrd, last year's rookie of the year in the American League.

Biggest Ring Bauble Is At Stake Tonight

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (P)—Undeclared Rocky Marciano, the youthful slugger, defends his heavyweight title against ex-champion Jersey Joe Walcott, the ancient boxer, in a long-awaited 15-round rematch at the Chicago Stadium tonight.

The two fighters, held at bay since a nose injury to Marciano postponed an original April 10 meeting, weighed in at 12 noon (EST) for their nationally-televized bout at 9 p. m.

Despite their classic first encounter at Philadelphia last Sept. 23 when a trailing Marciano dethroned Walcott with a pulverizing 13th round knockout, the assault on the box-office has been disappointingly light.

Gate Is Light

Attendance in the 20,000-seat Stadium may range between 13,000 and 15,000 and the gate—even with more than 9,000 "ringside" seats selling at $50 each—needed a last-minute spurt to hit $450,000.

The TV (NBC) factor—with only video screens in the Chicago and Milwaukee areas blacked out—and both local and national broadcasting (ABC) unquestionably squelched the ticket sale.

The fact the fight has been so long in the making has spun cobwebs around such pertinent facts as:

1. The 28-year-old Marciano is seeking his 44th victory without defeat in his first title defense.
2. The 39-year-old Walcott, in his eighth title appearance, is trying to become the first man ever to recapture the heavyweight crown.
3. Even though Marciano is a strong 3 to 1 favorite, the rugged Brockton Bomber was far behind on points and dumped for the first time in his career before his tremendous right to Walcott's jaw ended the last party.

That ponderous smash to the jaw has been described as one of the greatest blows in boxing history, ending as it did perhaps the most savage heavyweight title bout since the memorable Dempsey-Firpo battle.

It is recollection of that punch that gives Marciano almost unanimous support of boxing writers to repeat by a knockout, although active ringmen believe generally that Walcott can box Marciano into defeat.

The sponsoring International Boxing Club was hopeful, but not overly optimistic that gross receipts would top the indoor gate record of $422,918 set at the Stadium July 18, 1947, when Rocky Graziano knocked out Tony Zale for the middleweight title.

Walcott has forfeited his right to a 30 per cent slice of the net gate and TV receipts of $300,000 for a flat $250,000 guarantee. But with the sag in ticket sales, the former champion is expected to fare better than Marciano whose 30 per cent hunk may approximate $200,000.

Experts Favor Champ

The experts, almost to a man, think Jersey Joe's aging legs cannot carry him 15 rounds which they feel must be done to beat Marciano. Yet it was only last June that Walcott went that route in his first title defense for a decision over Charles.

One thing Walcott is certain to try, with all his skill as a left-hand jabber, is to test how well Marciano's nose has mended. Rocky's profuse bleeding in his right nostril from two ruptured blood vessels caused the postponement from April 10.

A referee and two judges, to be named at fight time, will score the bout under Illinois rules which provide for a 10-point per round system. An even round is 5-5 and the margin for a winner varies from 6-4 to 8-2. Total points determine the winner in a bout which goes the limit.

Mrs. Stromberg, Pioneer, Dies

Mrs. Hulda Stromberg, senior member of an early day Escanaba family, and widow of John A. Stromberg who was in the grocery business here many years, died at 3 a. m. today at the family home, 1507 Ludington St. She had been in poor health the past several years.

Mrs. Stromberg who knew the famous inventor, Thomas A. Edison, as a girl in Orange, N. J., and who followed his career with interest, had lived in Escanaba well over a half century.

She was a charter member of Central Methodist Church and active in its affairs until her illness.

Her husband died Nov. 28, 1939. Surviving are three sons, Austin and Edward of Chicago and Ivan of Iron Mountain; and two daughters, Mrs. Lillian Pope of Chicago and Mrs. Foss Elwyn of Sault Ste. Marie.

The body was taken to the Anderson funeral home. Arrangements for the services will be completed today.

Bear Bites Sailor On Binge At Soo; Sailor Bites Back

SAULT STE. MARIE (P)—If a bear bites you, what do you do? You bite him back, of course. At least that's what LeRoy Edward Carter said he did.

A Great Lakes sailor from Galien, O., Carter said he hauled himself off a freighter here with a mighty backache. For relief, he went to a bar. Then he went to another, and another.

Somewhere along the line, Carter said he bought a cub bear from a man at a saloon.

The bear really wasn't to blame for Carter's being in municipal court where he was fined $10 on disorderly conduct charges. But his appearance, as altered by the bear, likely had something to do with it.

With a chomped leg and a chewed ear, Carter insisted on boarding a bus. The bus company called police, complaining Carter was drunk.

Carter remembered buying the bear, but he didn't remember what happened to it, but he told City Judge Mahlon R. Stewart that he "got even" with the varmit for chewing his ear and leg.

"I bit him back, your honor," he explained.

The bear didn't get to court—or the bus, for that matter—with Carter and he wondered sadly in court what happened to it. Finally, a farmer came forward and said Carter had given him the bear.

Carter wasn't interested in another bite. Apparently the bear wasn't either.

Leopold Is Refused Parole From Prison

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (P)—Nathan Leopold, millionaire's son imprisoned for a 1924 "thrill" killing, failed in his bid for freedom Thursday.

The Illinois Parole and Pardon Board rejected his application for a parole from Stateville Penitentiary. It decided that Leopold, now 48, is not "the right type of man to go back into society."

Leopold, who has been in prison more than 28 years, has been described as a model prisoner possessed of an intelligence quotient in the genius class. He also served as a human guinea pig in medical tests at the prison.

He is serving an 85-year prison term for his part in the brutal 1924 kidnap-slaying of 14-year-old Bobby Franks. Richard Loeb, also the son of wealthy parents, was imprisoned with Leopold but was killed in a brawl with another convict in 1936. Both were 19 when they killed young Franks "for the thrill."

Fare On Straits Ferries Goes Up

LANSING (P)—The state ferries crossing the Straits of Mackinac will start charging more June 1, State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Zeigler announced today.

The boosts, which will jump the toll for most passenger cars $1, were forced on Zeigler by the Legislature when it cut the proposed $700,000 appropriation for the ferry operating deficit to $350,000.

Under the new schedule, the first change since 1933, passenger cars under 17 feet and the driver will be charged $2 and larger passenger cars $2.50. The old scale was $1, $1.25 and $1.50, depending on length.

Adult passengers in all vehicles will be charged 35 cents each instead of the present 25 cents. The child passenger fare of 10 cents will be unchanged.

Ordinary trailers drawn by passenger cars will cost $1.75 and house trailers will cost $3.25.

The rate for motorcycles will jump from 50 cents to $1.25.

Truck rates will range from $2.75 to $8. Small passenger buses will be charged $4 and large ones $5.

Zeigler said, "It must be borne in mind that the present ferry rates have been in effect for 20 years without change, during which period all costs have greatly increased."

McCarthy-Attlee Shouting Match Makes Headlines

British Prime Minister said that "sometimes one wonders who is the more powerful, the President (Eisenhower) or Senator McCarthy."

Declaring Sen. McCarthy will "get no apology," the Daily Mirror said:

"Britain's not apologizing to him or anybody else in America because there has been plain speaking. We think it is long overdue. . . if America is looking for a blind, gagged, obsequious ally we warn the President and Mr. McCarthy Britain is the wrong country to choose."

do not "sell" tangible property. He said the cost of materials and goods to manufacturers and merchants averages 45 to 55 per cent of their receipts.

The original bill would levy one-half of one per cent (five mills) on the receipts of businesses and self-employed professional people above $10,000 a year, with basic deductions for the cost of materials and merchandise and taxes. It would include farmers.

Sponsors said the original bill would produce $48,000,000 a year, but Doyle said this estimate was low and that the rate could be cut to four mills and still produce the same amount, with the new deductions.

Seven Pantie Raid Students Expelled At Michigan State

EAST LANSING (P)—Strict disciplinary action was taken by Michigan State College today against a group of students participating in the destructive "pantie raid" and riot on campus Monday night.

Seven students were expelled. Their draft boards will be notified they no longer have student status.

It will be up to the individual draft board to determine if the youths should be drafted now that their student deferment has ended. The seven can still apply for admission to the college next term and the college would make the decision then on whether or not to accept them.

Those expelled include Eldon C. Barclay, Port Huron, and Randolph L. Rushton, Escanaba.

Those referred to the student judiciary for punishment include Kenneth Christensen, Quinnesec, Mich.; Robert C. Cudney, Crosswell; Arthur C. Duvall, Erie, Mich.; John Karabetso, Marquette and John C. Saltzstein, Milwaukee.

Korean Peace Hopes Analyzed In Washington

Kremlin's peace drive. This design, many experts believe, is to split the Western Powers at a time when their united strength presents a serious barrier to Soviet ambitions.

Eisenhower declined yesterday to make an unqualified statement that there must be an armistice in Korea before he would agree to go into a Big Power meeting with Premier Malenkov of Russia. He said in effect he simply did not want to fix any rigid condition. But previously both he and Secretary of State Dulles have pointed up the truce negotiations as a major test of Communist intentions.

They did this against the background of developments which began with Stalin's death, led to the latest Kremlin peace campaign and produced, at Red insistence, a resumption of the Panmunjom negotiations which had broken down in complete deadlock last October.

Same Old Issue

These circumstances contrived to give broader significance to the Reds' conduct at the truce talks.

The central issue has been the same for many months—whether the truce agreement would compel all prisoners of war to go home or whether, as the U. N. has insisted, those unwilling to return home should be set free. U. N. estimates are that 14,000 Chinese Red prisoners and 34,000 North Koreans would resist repatriation.

The Communists first came up with a plan to turn these POW's over to a single neutral nation. After the U. N. tried to find out how the plan would work and whether the POW's who still refused repatriation would be set free, the Reds came up with a plan for a five-nation repatriation commission.

To this latter proposal the U. N. submitted a counter-proposal in Korea Wednesday and the Reds rejected it Thursday.

Studying the rejection, officials are said to have decided yesterday to question the Reds on various details in an effort to find out to what extent they are willing to negotiate at all.

No Compromise

So far as the U. N. is concerned, the central issue remains the same—will the Reds agree to freedom for the POW's who do not want to go home?

Officials said the earlier Red proposals which seemed to offer some inducement for hope of agreement actually provided no assurance of freedom at all and therefore could never be accepted by the U. N. Command—which

AT FORT BLISS — Pvt. David Floyd Johnson, USA, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin J. Johnson, 1625 Dakota Ave., Gladstone, is undergoing basic training as an anti-aircraft artilleryman at Fort Bliss, Texas. Johnson, who entered service April 8, is a 1950 graduate of Gladstone High School. Before going in the army he worked in Detroit for Excell Tool Co.

Cones For Deputies

ITHACA, N. Y. (P)—This city's 2,999 "high water deputies" traded their badges for ice cream cones this week.

In March, the youngsters pledged that they would stay away from swollen streams. The ice cream, contributed by business firms, was their reward.

takes its orders from the U. S. government.

The point which officials said would be made clear in ensuing negotiations is that there are ways to work out differences if the Reds really desire to do so. They make an exception of the central dispute over final freedom for the POW's unwilling to go home. On this point, informants said, no compromise is possible.

battles over North Korea. The deadly Sabres have shot down seven MIGs, probably destroyed one and damaged five in three days of hunting.

Enemy Losses Heavy

The Air Force also reported 140 fighter-bombers smashed a Communist military training center near Chinnampo, north of the Western Front.

Bitter fighting continued for the fourth straight day in the Capitol Hill-Outpost Texas sector of the Central Front, about 100 miles east of the Outpost Vegas area.

Chinese attackers overran six South Korean positions, including Outpost Texas, in savage hand-to-hand battles. But ROK counterattacks drove the Reds off three outposts by daylight and fighting still was underway at the other three, the Eighth Army reported.

Several hundred Chinese have been killed in the daily attacks which have won the Communists little or nothing.

Army officials estimate that at least 1,000 Reds have been killed or wounded in the past two days of stepped up fighting along the 155-mile battle front.

Over In 50 Minutes
Communist artillery and mortar batteries fired 30,000 rounds at Allied lines during the 24-hour period ending at 6 p. m. Thursday, the biggest barrage in seven months.

The Chinese hurled about 10,000 rounds of mortar and artillery fire at Outposts Vegas, Berlin and East Berlin before and during Friday's attack, while Allied big guns and tanks fired several times that number.

One battalion of about 1,000 Chinese hit Outpost Vegas under cover of a smoke screen, while a second battalion struck the two Berlin forward positions.

Both battles were over in 50 minutes, and the Army said the Red attacks were stopped well short of hand grenade range.

One thought is that the American Indians donned war paint to terrify their enemies, but the real purpose may have been to camouflage themselves.
